

Combined Military Services Museum. 24th October 2019.

The Combined Military Services Museum at Maldon Essex takes you through British military history, beginning on the medieval battlefields, then onto the Napoleonic and Crimean wars of the 19th Century then the First and Second World Wars of the 20th Century and finally today's conflicts.

After battling through the Dartford Tunnel a group of 12 members finally reached Maldon in Essex later than expected.

We were welcomed and given a short introductory talk on the history of the museum which was opened on 5 July 2004. It was set up by Richard Wooldridge to house a personal collection he had created over many years.

The collections on display include:-

The Donnington collection of arms used and captured by the British Army.

The Spy collection

The Special Forces collection

Uniforms and Personal equipment

Artillery and Munitions

The three floors in the building are packed with display items and detailed information.
