

A Flavour of Joyce Grenfell with Pat Bryer

This unique one-woman show spans a wide range of monologues and songs by the wonderful actor, writer and comedian, Joyce Grenfell, lovingly recreated by Pat Bryer.

Amongst the host of characters selected are, of course, the nursery teacher in the famous and much loved 'George Don't Do That', as well as the well-known 'Old Girl', Lumpy Latimer. There is also, however, an exciting opportunity to hear Mrs. Bolster for the first time, a character Joyce Grenfell wrote but never performed. Choice Joyce will appeal not only to those who have known and loved her work for years, but also to people hearing it for the first time.

At times touching, at times hilarious, this beautifully constructed tribute lasts about forty-five minutes but can, of course, be adapted to suit your requirements. Return performances with new sketches and songs can also be booked, if desired.
